

Intern – Packaging Design

The Internship

Onera is looking for an Intern - Packaging Design to join the team for a fascinating temporary assignment. During the internship you will deep dive in the world of packaging for medical devices with focus on Onera STS I.

About Onera

Onera Health is a leader in transforming sleep medicine and remote monitoring. Their breakthrough diagnostic solutions and services are poised to help millions of people struggling with sleep-related ailments, while also impacting other medical fields by monitoring a variety of chronic conditions, ultimately improving the health and quality of life for patients around the world. The company's innovative solutions provide comprehensive sleep test data to physicians in a variety of clinical and non-clinical environments to optimize patient care and reduce healthcare costs.

Why join?

- Onera Health is a leader in transforming sleep medicine and remote monitoring
- Our innovative solutions provide comprehensive sleep test data to physicians in a variety of clinical and non-clinical applications or environments
- Our breakthrough diagnostic solutions and services are poised to help millions of people struggling with sleep-related ailments

The Responsibilities– What You'll Do

- Develop packaging for the Onera STS I:
- Identify packaging requirements related to shipping, usability and marketing
- Create concepts based upon the requirements
- Evaluate concepts with different stakeholders in- and outside Onera
- Prototype chosen concept(s)
- Verify and validate prototype(s)

The Requirements – What You'll Bring

- 3rd or 4th year student in Industrial Design (Engineering) or equivalent
- Proficient in MS Office
- Experience in 3D CAD (preferably SolidWorks)
- Strong analytical skills
- Good communication skills (English, Dutch is a plus)
- Pragmatic and hands-on attitude
- Relevant prior experience is a plus (medical field, packaging, etc.)

The Win-Win – What You'll Gain (and bonus features)

- Unique access to professional development:
- Paid internship
- In-person/Hybrid opportunities
- Be a key part of a growing business and a growing department

- Flexibility in work hours and work location (within the region)
- An open positive company culture, with a lot of team activities

Where We Are

Torenallee 42-54 (Strijp-S), Eindhoven, Netherlands.

We look forward to receiving your application and portfolio!

Apply on Workable: <https://apply.workable.com/onera-health-1/j/C959686505/>