

Symposium

Collaborate with social and economic impact: Innovating engineering education in entrepreneurial ecosystems

Senaatszaal, Auditorium, Eindhoven University of Technology
Friday, October 4, 2019

Preceding the inaugural lecture of prof.dr.ir.arch. Isabelle Reymen, you are cordially invited to attend a mini-symposium entitled 'Collaborate with social and economic impact: Innovating engineering education in entrepreneurial ecosystems'.

PROGRAM

- 13:30-13:40 Welcome
Interview with Isabelle Reymen by Isolde Hallensleben
- 13:40-14:00 Entrepreneurial innovation ecosystems: A policy perspective
Dr. Daria Tataj
*World expert on European Innovation and Network Thinking;
Chair of Advisors to EU Commissioner for Research, Science and Innovation;
Founder and CEO Tataj Innovation*

Please turn over

- 14:00-14:20 Innovating engineering education
Dr. Kristina Edström
Associate Professor in Engineering Education Development, KTH Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden; Member of CDIO Council and steering committee of SEFI (European Society for Engineering Education); Editor-in-Chief of European Journal of Engineering Education
- 14:20-14:40 Responsible innovation: Social and economic impact with education at TU/e
Dr. Johanna Höffken
Assistant Professor in Technology, Innovation and Society; Eindhoven University of Technology, The Netherlands; Nominated for best teacher of the year 2015/16, 2018/19 at TU/e
- 14:40-15:00 Round table discussion
Moderator: Isolde Hallensleben
- 15:00-16:00 Coffee/tea break
- 16:00-17:00 Inaugural lecture by prof.dr.ir.arch. Isabelle Reymen
Blauwe Zaal (Auditorium TU/e)

Attendance is free of charge, but registration is required. You may register via Eventbrite (<https://inauguration-isabellereymen.eventbrite.nl>). Please, register before September 20, 2019. The number of participants is limited; registrations are processed based on the order of arrival.