Research Support Office

The Research Support Office (RSO) is a central group of TU/e professionals who help researchers to maximize their chances of success with project acquisition and execution. We offer specialized support throughout the whole research project chain.

MAIN ACTIVITIES

We are a group of funding, legal and program specialists, supporting researchers at TU/e in developing and executing successful research projects. We do this in close cooperation with the TU/e departments and institutes.

RESEARCH SUPPORT NETWORK

We drive the Research Support Network, a community of professionals in departments, institutes and various services, who support researchers in developing and executing research projects throughout the whole research project chain.
