Collectively responsible for a positive working and learning environment

Social safety is a matter that concerns all of us. All employees, students and guests of TU/e are collectively responsible for positive working and learning environment. This includes everyone - employee, student or guest - to deal responsibly with the ethical aspects of the working and learning environment.

But what if you suspect that something inappropriate is going on, has a conflict of interest yourself or are confronted with undesirable behavior?

Where can you turn?

If you want to report a harmful activity at TU/e, you can turn to the Emergencies and Safety office. If necessary, a serious or minor infraction, such as aggressive behavior or a complaint in bad faith, may lead to a formal decision. The procedures ensure that you are treated objectively, in a timely manner, with respect and confidentiality.

If you have problems in your social environment, e.g., in your living situation, or if you experience psychological distress, then you can turn to the Manager for Safety and Security.

If you need immediate assistance (emergency calls), call the TU/e emergency number, outside TU/e: 0900-8844 2222 (internal) or 040-247 2222 (external/mobile). If it is not urgent, call the emergency number 112 or scan the QR code!
